

In additional field observations we observed that the footprint of the subject (Rick Westcot) displayed infilling of the "hallux", or big toe.

Note faithful recording of all five toes. Note slight change in toe angle and near-horizontal metatarsal ball as the individual (Rick Westcot) changed lateral direction. Note horizontal pressure along outside of print.