

H-T
-1
L

A photograph of a rock face, possibly a cave wall or a geological outcrop. The rock is light-colored, with various shades of tan, beige, and grey, and shows signs of weathering and fracturing. A prominent, dark, irregularly shaped feature, possibly a shadow or a mineral deposit, runs vertically down the center-right of the image. In the upper left corner, a small white rectangular label is affixed to the rock, containing the text "H-T", "-1", and "L" stacked vertically.