

Sauropod and Irenesauripus glenrosensis tracks from near Glen Rose, Somervell County, Texas. Diagram of trackways removed from bed of Paluxy River in 1940. Diagram by R. T. Bird.

The diagram at top is by R.T. Bird portraying the trackway which was removed from the bed of the Paluxy River and taken to the American Museum of Natural History. That trackway is used as global illustration depicting carnivorous characteristics of certain species of dinosaurs in the paleontological record.

The second diagram is from Bird's notes illustrating the supposed carnivorous attack at Glen Rose.
