

Tylor trail at McFall II site showing where the dinosaur stepped to the right and then returned to normal straddle distance without changing pace and stride.

McFall I site where dinosaur changed foot posture 70° and continued previous pace and stride.

