

(Above) Very distinct laminations showing under the section of the big toe, or "hallux".

(Below) Very Distinct laminations showing around the depression of the little toe (in addition to a possible fossil depressed under the center of the little toe).

